GIBSON®

Product Catalog

The world of gymnastics was energized this past year by the incredible performances of the Final Five at the Summer Olympic Games in Rio. Creative new skills, wonderful displays of teamwork and the heights of personal performance combined to awe and amaze the millions who watched. That excitement also inspired the next generation of gymnasts to go to a gym for the first time or to push their training so they can take their place as part of the next wave of elite athletes on the world stage.

We celebrate these eventful times as we reflect upon the hard work required to reach a level of mastery in our sport. There is so much behind that final moment on the podium. At Gibson, we honor the hard work and recognize that every Olympic contender started from the beginning. All had to perfect their cartwheel before their round-off, their kip before their giants, and their back tuck before their double back. We challenge all of our customers to build on their passion and dream big.

After all...

- EVERY OLYMPIAN STARTS SOMEWHERE -

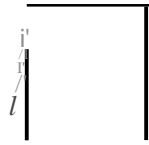

At Gibson Athletic, we are here to support you in every step of your journey right from the start.

// GIBSON BARS //

From your first pair of grips to finally making a kip, there are many defining moments on bars. Each basic skill paves the way for the exciting routines seen on the Olympic stage.

However, those elite routines are not built over a competition set of equipment. It takes bar circuits, where beginners learn to engage their arm muscles, single training bars, where gymnasts team their flyways into a pit, and spotting platforms for coaches to support their athletes along the way.

GIBIB

FORSTER SLIDING PLATFORM

Designed for spotting athletes over a training pit platform, this 62" x 34" sliding platform mounts on the floor next to your training trench/pit and can slide out 26". Constructed of steel for extra support and stabilization. Covered in 18 oz vinyl with 3/8" cross-link foam.

Designed by Colorado Aerials' Tom Forster and manufactured exclusively by Gibson.

FORSTER PIROUETTE TRAINER

This pirouette bar provides three training techniques in one. Developed by U.S. National Team bar coach Tom Forster, this unit provides the proper set up to train the latest techniques for pirouette and blind turns on bars. The Y, turn technique teaches proper progression when learning a complete 180 degree pirouette. Mini bar adjusts to create a 45, 90, or 135 degree angle. Sitting 1.5" higher than the base bar, the mini bar simultaneously teaches the "crooked handstand" technique, which promotes proper weight transfer to the gymnast's post arm. Removable mini bar allows for use as a standard pirouette bar as well.

Manufactured exclusively by Gibson.

What gives a gymnast the confidence to perform a skill on a 4" surface, 4 feet off the ground? In order to make those aerials, tumbling series, and leap combinations look like they were done on the floor, a gymnast must develop the fearlessness required for this event, which comes through repetition. First comes a line on the floor, then comes the low beam. Our products provide the first step in getting that new skill high beam ready.

// GIBSON CONDITIONING //

There is a reason high level gymnasts train 30+ hours a week. The mental and physical strength required of our sport is achieved inside the walls of the gym. One 1:30 minute routine requires hours and hours of drills, training, and conditioning. From the first salute, gymnasts have one chance to show what they have trained for; no do-overs or repeats. All of our training and conditioning equipment provide the necessary tools to make that one routine count.

// GIBSON MATS //

When you walk into a gym, whether it's on the floor, under the equipment, or stacked a mile high, mats are everywhere. A mat is more than a piece of foam covered in vinyl. It is the training tool that boosts performance and accelerates skill development. A skill cushion provides a boost of confidence for an athlete to go for a new skill. Once the routine is there, a competition landing mat provides the sturdy surface to stick the dismount in competition, just like the elite gymnasts do on TV.
